Microsoft should have been penalized for its business practices, and current events show that it has not changed its tactics!! Please do not compound this error by allowing MS to invade our public schools with their offer of $1B of donated software etc (which will really cost them only the cost of producing CD's , but which will be charged at retail, probably a 400 to 1 ratio). Most schools presently use Mac's for learning "keyboarding". Once MS succeeds in having the kids use only MS products, they will never know that there are other alternatives, and MS domination of the software industry will be complete! This offer is nothing more than a "trojan horse"!!
